

Trauma

Corbett Trauma Center (A division of the Crisis Center of Tampa Bay)

Trauma can result from many events: sexual abuse or sexual assault, domestic violence, emotional abuse, physical abuse or physical assault, human trafficking, serious illness, cyber-crimes, bullying, death of someone close, being the victim of a crime. A person may also be a witness to these events and others such as homicide, serious accidents, or disasters. The consequences of trauma may or may not be evident: noticeable change in mood or behavior, irritability, uncharacteristic anger or aggression, sleeping difficulty, frequent physical complaints such as stomach upset or headaches, isolation, sadness, or recurrent or unrelenting anxiety.

www.crisiscenter.com

Phone: 813.264.9955